hundreds of local offices at the polls tomorrow to decide whether or not it wants change in the constitution and the presently constituted structure.Approximately 3,951,438 voters—
3,300,000 Democrats, 1,983,063 Republicans and 150,000 non-partisan voters—were eligible to cast their ballots tomorrow but a relatively small vote was predicted because of the absence of state-wide contests.It was the kind of a success every committee hopes a civic affair will be. The mummies numbered upwards of a thousand, the costumes were diversified, and the weather was not too cold to prohibit some of the fair young things appearing in costumes that might not be appropriate for zero weather.

Shoots Five Children; Suicides

HUSBAND'S ARREST CAUSE OF TRAGEDY

(International News Service)
NORWALK, Ia., Nov. 1.—The body of Mrs. Elma McAninch lay today between the bodies of five of her seven children.

The 35-year-old housewife killed them Sunday and then ended her own life as the remaining two boys returned from a Halloween party. The arrest of her husband George, 41, apparently drove Mrs. McAninch to commit the slaughter. He was in jail at the time but was released after questioning about a burglary.

The woman left a note in which she explained: "I have stood all I can and I think it is best to take the kids along. The only thing that saves you two boys is that there are no more shells."

On a table beside the bed was the Bible opened to the chapter in Exodus which deals with the slaying of all male children on the orders of Pharaoh, which Moses escaped by being hidden in the bullrushes.

The children, slain in their beds by the distraught mother, were: Cora, 13; Geraldine, 10; Maurice, 7; Max, 4, and Dickie, 2. The surviving sons are Ray, 15, and Gail, 11.

AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION ARE ISSUE IN STATE

The Democratic camp save for scattered instances where it has put up independent slates or candidates in western Pennsylvania where it is split.

The spotlight was focused on many battle fronts. In Pittsburgh the Republicans are seeking to smash the Democratic machine through the election of their mayoralty candidate.

The contest over judgeships in Philadelphia where Gov. George H. Earle personally stumped the Quaker City has become the burning issue. In the state's 67 counties each party is seeking to consolidate its respective positions for the coming gubernatorial campaign and is bending every effort to turn in smashing victories. In the state as a whole, the Democratic organization is risking much of its prestige by injecting national issues into the local contests and fighting desperately for the approval of four constitutional amendments.

The judicial election contests have given rise to contradictory positions on the part of both parties on the attitude toward sitting judges. In some instances the Republicans and Democrats are supporting them and in others they are not. Forty-nine judgeships are at stake.

Amendments Doubtful

The fate of three of the five constitutional amendments was doubtful. Certain to be defeated was the proposal to float a $42,000,000 bond issue which the Democrats have disowned and given a good chance of being approved was the amendment to "legalize" old age assistance and mothers pension appropriations because of the lack of organized opposition to it.

The controversy was most heated over the graded income tax, "time-lock" and Philadelphia's city-county consolidation amendments.

The Republican leadership, backed by the powerful state grange, is opposing these three amendments. The state Chamber of Commerce affiliates disclosed sentiment against the graded income tax and "time-lock" referendum.

Special Session At Stake. Observers believe that upon the outcome of these three amendments will hinge to a large degree whether or not a special session will be summoned and will decide the scope of subjects to be included in the call.

Tomorrow's general election will be the first under the new election laws, with polls open from 7 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock in the evening.

The question of municipal ownership of public utilities will be voted upon in Allegheny and Berks counties.

out. First came a police car clearing the way, then an unknown horseman on a mount with a straw hat. Then the Legion band with Grand Marshal Cole, Director Joe P. Replogle, aides and the first division of mummies. Two other bands were in line, the Croton band, headed by the veteran Asa Hornmeyer, and the George Washington Junior high school band.

In the line of march were animated characters from the comic strips. Tramps, Indians, Chinamen, Ubangi natives, Dionne Quints, but no May West. Up on the judges stand, Mayor Charles E. McGrath, city councilmen and a group of judges did their best to award the prizes fairly but at that the competition was keen.

Quints Win

After a long period of discussion the judges awarded the Dionne Quints the first prize of $25. This group consisted of five women dressed alike, a woman dressed as a doctor and one as a nurse. They were Helen Stritzinger, Helen Carnes, Edith Carnes, Pearl Jones, Sadie Deegan, Alice Thompson, Harriet Kennedy and Josephine Huff.

Second prize went to R. J. Miller, who got the $15 for his excellent characterization of a Ubangi native. Third prize of $10 was divided between Virginia Nielsen and Mrs. Louella Hartzell, the one a baller girl and the other the "Girl in Yellow."

Fourth prize of $5 went to Betty Ward who represented Sonja Henie the skating star. In addition there was some $250 distributed in $2 and $1 prizes so that the proportion of prize winners to the number in line was unusually high.

Traffic Well Handled

For the parade the city police department co-operated in its usual efficient manner. In spite of the Saturday night traffic, there were no jams of any consequence, and the mummies were able to move over the downtown streets without difficulty. Another group that rendered valuable assistance was the Boy Scouts, and today General Chairman Edward Haines was complimentary in his statements of their work.

It was a night of carnival when otherwise staid citizens threw off their dignity and came down town for a few minutes of revelry. The Retail Merchants Association is to be congratulated upon the success of the venture and the efficiency with which the various committees operated.

eighteen inches of earth. Apples kept that way retain their flavor much better than when kept in cellars or refrigerators. In the winter, when the ground is frozen, a hole is dug at the base of the cone, through which the apples are pulled. "Holling" of apples, derived its name from this hole.

After a Croton avenue woman had taken her curtains down to wash them last week, she was surprised to have two different parties in her bedroom inquiring whether she was moving and how soon. It would seem that houses are at a premium here.

Five Amendments

In addition the officers to be named there are five amendments to the state constitution to be voted upon. The first would permit the submission of constitutional amendments often than every five years. The second would permit the levying of a graded income, inheritance and estate tax.

The third would constitutionalize the Mother's Assistance and Old Age Assistance Funds.

The fourth would permit the consolidation of the city and county governments of Philadelphia.

The fifth would permit the state to bind itself for $42,000,000 for new buildings for the care of sick and insane.

Japanese Enraged As British House "Suicide Battalion"

SHANGHAI, Nov. 1.—Disarmed but plentifully fed and happy, 400 members of China's "suicide battalion" rested comfortably in a British concentration camp on the International Settlement race course today after their rescue from seemingly inevitable death at the hands of 4,000 opposing Japanese.

The "dare to die" warriors were taken into the settlement and disarmed by British troops after holding out for more than a week in an abandoned warehouse on Soochow creek.

Action of British authorities in offering them sanctuary enraged the Japanese military.

Meanwhile his attorney, J. A. Macinnis, K. C., said he believed evidence of witnesses and results of Saturday night's post mortem would clear Spencer of suspicion in the slaying. The post mortem findings will be kept secret until the inquest.

Relatives of both the dead girl and the former New York Giants outfielder arrived here yesterday.

Provincial police said Miss Grier, whom Spencer told them had accompanied him on "six or seven" similar hunting trips, was shot with the .22 caliber rifle that she and Spencer had used for target practice a few hours before she was killed.

Fusion leaders estimated that rackets prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey, running for district attorney on the Laguardia ticket, would win by a plurality of more than 100,000.

He is opposed by Harold W. Hastings, Tammany candidate. Dewey is an 8 to 5 favorite to win.

Determined to stem a purported wave of fraudulent votes, Dewey today armed his poll workers with more than 500 warrants and a list of 4,000 names to be challenged. He has mobilized nearly 1,000 young lawyers to watch polling places tomorrow.

New York's entire police force, numbering about 19,000, will be mobilized tomorrow to protect balloting. All leaves, days off and special assignments will be cancelled.

Fowle-Miller Wedding Takes Place In Trinity Church

Trinity Episcopal church was the scene of a beautiful Autumn wedding Saturday evening, when Miss Elizabeth King Fowle, became the bride of George Zerner Miller, at an impressive ceremony performed at 7:30 o'clock. The single ring service was used, with the Rev. Philip C. Pearson, rector, officiating in the presence of several hundred guests of the young couple. The altar, embellished with graceful palms, and an abundance of white chrysanthemums, was further enhanced by the glow of Cathedral candles in silver branching candelabrum.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin William P. Quinn, was attired in a gown of ivory velvet, made en-train, with long sleeves and high crushed neckline with buttons to the hem. Her veil of tulle, made en-train, was trimmed with heirloom lace, and it fell from a Dutch cap of rose point lace. She carried an arm bouquet of valley lilies and gardenias.

As maid of honor, Miss Betty Sherman, of South Dartmouth, Mass., wore a gown of old rose velvet, smocked at the waist, with a "V" neckline. Her arm bouquet was of yellow roses and chrysanthemums. Mrs. Edward K. Stropp, of Short Hills, New Jersey, and Miss Frances Aiken of this city, were bridesmaids. They wore dresses patterned similar to that of the maid of honor, in peacock blue velvet, and each carried an arm cluster of yellow roses and white mums.

Julian D. Miller served his brother as best man.

Ushering, were Thomas M. Boyle, Paul J. McNamara, and John Byers, all of New Castle and Robert McKnight, of Detroit, Michigan.

Preceding and during the ceremony, Miss Isabel Johnson, church organist, played a program of nuptial numbers. In her program, she included favorite selections of the bride.

Immediately following the exchange of vows, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Margaret King Fowle, 316 Rhodes Place, for guests numbering two hundred. Later, Mr. Miller and his bride departed on an extended motor trip, and upon their return, will take up residence in the newly furnished apartment in The Castleton Hotel, this city.

The bride, a prominent young woman of New Castle, graduated from Dana Hall School in Wellesley, Mass., in the year of 1933. She has been feted at a series of parties, teas and luncheons since the news of her engagement was made known. The groom, a graduate of Wooster College, Wooster, O., with the class of 1936, is affiliated with The Castleton Hotel as assistant manager. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Miller, of Mt. Jackson.

TOO MUCH OF A GOOD NEIGHBOR

SOME broad and disturbing implications arising from Secretary Hull's reciprocal trade agreements are now being made plain as a result of the hearings on the proposed arrangement with Czechoslovakia. On the long list of manufactured goods on which it is planned to make tariff concessions in return for supposed corresponding benefits to American industry are shoes and cotton textiles.

All these agreements contain the familiar "most favored nation" clause, which means that we must accord the same advantageous treatment to all countries alike with which we have commercial compacts. American makers of cotton textiles point out that the chief danger of including such commodities in any agreement with Czechoslovakia would be the stimulus to similar imports from Japan, already a costly competitor in certain grades of goods.

Hitherto the most vigorous objection to lowering tariff bars in favor of Czechoslovakia had come from American shoe manufacturers. Pennsylvania, as Senator Davis has shown, possesses an important shoe industry engaged in making the kind of articles which Czechoslovakia, because of exceedingly low wages, can turn out at one-third or half the cost. Twenty thousand shoe workers in New York state have joined in the protest against lowering the protection, itself quite inadequate, on their products.

These are only two branches of American manufacture which apparently would suffer severely from threatened concessions to Czechoslovakia. The declared purpose of Mr. Hull's trade agreements is to open up foreign markets for American goods. In formulating this latest proposed arrangement with another nation is should be his task to select those items which do not now enter into serious competition with American industry. This country can not afford to add to its unemployment by permitting dangerous competitors to flood its markets with goods priced far below the cost of production here.

BUSINESS CRITERION

Ever since March, 1932, when United States Steel ceased paying dividends on its common stock, Wall Street and financial circles generally have waited almost breathlessly for an announcement that directors had decided that financial conditions in the country and the position of the corporation were such that these payments might safely be resumed. This glad news has come and it will be received as a factor reflecting the fundamental soundness of the business situation as it exists at the present time, notwithstanding the recession in trade and the heavy losses in the Stock Market during the last six months.

United States Steel has followed a policy of extreme caution with respect to the resumption of dividend payments. There have been many times during the recovery period when interested observers have felt that the business of the company and conditions in general justified a more liberal attitude. The decision to authorize payment of $8,700,000 at this time must accordingly be accepted as an encouraging omen. It presages a renewal of the recovery movement interrupted by recent adverse developments.

Changes in the management of the vast steel empire are indicative of the expectation of greater steelmaking activity in the immediate future.

PEACEMAKERS MEET

Discussions in Brussels, where representatives of the signatories to the Nine-Power Pact will gather in a day or two to consider the situation in China, will not open auspiciously. Japan, with the victory of Chapei dripping from her bayonet, has sent word that she will not attend. Whether the other nations have any concrete plans, anything in the nature of action that will do more than register moral indignation, is not known in advance.

Norman Davis departed from the United States with the impression clearly in mind that his country, while appalled by developments in China and desirous of playing its part in bringing an end to international anarchy, draws the line at war. Viscount Halifax has revealed British policy to the extent that a termination of the war will be sought, but only on a basis "that the moral opinion of the world will accept." This is a significant statement, if accepted literally. The moral opinion of the world demands that China shall receive justice, and justice involves the restoration of territory stolen by Japan.

Unless the peaceful nations are willing to go to extremes and to invoke sanctions against Japan or intervene in a military way, an unlikely course in view of the general determination among all participants to guard against involvement in war, there is little that can be done at Brussels except utter a "moral" condemnation of Japan and withhold recognition of her conquests.

After that, the solution of the problem will revert to the Japanese and the Chinese. China has at least one important advantage. It can lose almost every day and still win the war, provided, of course, this losing process is continued over a sufficiently long period of time to consume Japan's resources of men, supplies and money, all of which are limited. Japan's hope of victory lies in the possibility of producing a precipitate rout of foes, which would mean a hasty end.

Add famous last words: "I'll bet that signal means she is going to turn right."

The more discriminating hitchhikers nowadays insist upon a car with a radio.

What's the use? If you swallow a great man's hooey, you are a sucker; if you don't, you are a cynic.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PERILS IN HOME

A great many little children swallow foreign objects, among which are pins.

The first time you see your baby pick up such an object, do not yell at him. Be calm, hard to do. Quickly ask him to give it to you and approve him warmly with a smiling "Thank You" as he does. He likes to push small things through cracks and holes. Cut a slit in a tin coffee can and persuade him to put small objects he finds into it. He will go searching for long periods of time to find things just for the pleasure of putting them into this can, or of giving them to you to earn your smile. In like manner, you can train him to bring all things not his own to you, which he finds out of place. Try not to be excited when you find your baby with some foreign object in his mouth. Remove it very gently, avoiding, if possible, any resistance whatsoever. Never even reach a forbidden thing from your child's grasp. Prevail upon him to hand it to you or, if necessary, offer him something else attractive and slowly spirit away the dangerous article as he relaxes grasp. Never, in such an instance, even suggest punishment.

Say the toddler has a sharp stick or pointed scissors. If you force them from him once, he will, next time he sees you coming, almost surely run away with them. Then what a tragedy, if he should fall upon the piercing, cutting thing. Teach him early how to carry all such things with point downward, but until he is ready to be fairly safe with them, keep them from his reach.

Other Dangers To Avoid Train him never to climb to certain designated places, as to the medicine chest, nor to reach for things above him, as those on the kitchen sink or table, also to avoid the gas jet and open fire. Be on hand the first time he reaches for objects above him in the kitchen or touches the gas jet, to give him immediate physical pain, saying "no" just once. Also be on hand there after when he is exposed to these things until he avoids them automatically. Unless the pain can be immediately let there be none at all, and there must be no exceptions if you wish to get good results.

Now for yourself. Never leave medicine or dangerous objects around where the child can reach them. Don't leave them when he is not present if you want there. Never risk doing once with apparent safety what is likely ever to be dangerous.

Always have on hand some syrup of ipecac to give the child to make him vomit, in case he should eat or drink poison. Ask your physician to advise you on these matters.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

FROM SUCH A SMALL BEGINNING

In the beginning, last year, it was hardly anything at all. Just a little place on the bare bank where a few drops of water ran slowly down the slope. And who would have thought that in one short year so great a change could have come about. . . . But this year when I came this way again I found a great wound in the field. The narrow trickle had become a good-sized stream. Great gaps had been torn in the fertile earth. Wind and rain had taken hold and the forces of destruction were far advanced. Erosion was under way. . . . And a farmer, to whom every inch of good ground was precious for useful production, stood over that torn piece of earth and shook his head and wondered if it was too late for him to save what was left.

Now, the process of erosion is an ancient one, and it is thus through the millions of years that the face of the earth has been carved—by sunshine and rainfall, by frost and wind, by glaciers and by rivers. By erosion the great cliffs have been worn to soft and fertile soil and the valleys where civilizations grew were made. It is creative as well as destructive.

And not only by evolution, if you will accept that man evolved, were human beings formed into what they are today. Beneficent erosion has also shaped our human character. Little by little, human nature has been pounded and broken, smoothed by the winds of experience, made lean by adversity enriched by suffering.

But as the farmer must keep a keen eye for the little beginnings of erosion on his fields, so must a man watch himself. Too often a lad of rich promise, brave and generous spirited, grows to meager manhood. Distrust and envy and cynicism allowed to take hold, and unregarded, eat away at him and drag him down to lower levels. Thus the rich promise of his beginnings is degraded or dissipated and despair. Thus the richer sort of a man is eroded away. The little beginnings end in miserable havoc, the small meanness becomes a great crime, and the tiny crack becomes a mighty crevice on whose edges we stand in self-pity and remorse, bewailing the blindness that veiled the inevitable future from our foolish eyes.

The World At A Glance

Forecast On Business Given.
See Lessening In Production.
Housing Will Be Assisted.

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Columnist

SOME MEN are not sanguine over 1938 business. They do not believe it will reach 1937 levels. Costs have forced prices to levels beyond a large part of the consuming public. Much of the cost is assumed to be for labor, commodities and taxes. Of these, taxes alone may rise in 1938—taxes largely through hidden methods, such as a processing tax to pay for maintaining grain and cotton prices. That hits the less fortunate further reducing purchasing power.

But there is still another reason that costs "cannot be got down" (a reason rarely mentioned). Companies may be overcapitalized. They have to earn many millions to pay even a dollar a share (which is not much of a return to an individual shareholder). This is a weakness of American business which is growing more apparent every day. But how can there be deflation of capitalization?

Perhaps Henry Ford could answer. He made possible the reasonable-priced car because he never overcapitalized. He plowed his earnings back into his plants to produce still more reasonably-priced cars. Whatever one may think of his labor policy now, he followed a policy of production that even the most Socialist nation could take as an example.

FEWER CARS?

This leads to the guess as to the number of automobiles to be produced in 1938. The most popular prediction has been "5,000,000 cars." We may as well look the truth in the face now. If the United States has a 3,500,000-car year in 1938 it may be doing well. National income is dropping, and may drop the greater part of a year. And car prices are higher.

Even the 1937 car production may run far below mid-season estimates. Then it was believed that production would reach or pass 5,000,000 cars in 1937. But the chances are that this year's total production may even fall slightly under last year's production of 4,455,000 cars. Last quarter production this year may be merely slightly more than half the 1936 last quarter production. Demand last year was abnormal. All this will have an effect on steel mills and railroads.

BUILDING RECEDES

The recession in building activity also is causing concern. High construction costs and fear of taxation, together with lessened demand for business properties are having their effect.

It is granted that millions of new houses are needed. But the cost of building, and the rental that follows are too much for the average income.

Rents, incidentally, may have reached their peak for the present moment.

The Federal government may have to come to the rescue on a larger scale than at present indicated. A tremendous housing program may in the end be necessary. And that means more taxes. Big business may expect no relief from taxation on a large scale, in same shape or form. Nor need the consumer expect to escape the increasing invisible taxes, largely added by states and counties and cities.

As for prices generally—it is believed that they will fall. But please do not gamble on what you read in this column. The writer merely is an observer, not an adviser. He tries to glean the facts.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WANTED—ONE REGULATOR

Airplane lines of the United States deserve prompt attention to their demand, just voiced, that Federal regulation be centralized in one body, says the editor of the Los Angeles Times. As it is now, the harassed air lines are pulled and hauled by no less than five supervisory agencies. This is fair neither to them nor to the public.

Few businesses have struggled along under greater handicaps than has commercial aviation. It has had to solve baffling scientific problems. It has had to spend large sums on research when money was hard to get. It has had to contend with bad weather, fog, lack of trained personnel and the indecision caused by varying laws hastily passed.

That it has made the splendid strides which have marked its rise during the last decade is little less than astounding. The least that can be done now is to relieve it of the upsetting influence of conflicting regulation.

It is proposed that the Interstate Commerce Commission be given sole jurisdiction or that a separate body be created. The decision as to which course is best is a technical one for the industry and the government to decide. Offhand, it might appear that the I. C. C. itself should be given responsibility so that problems of correlating rail, air and other forms of transportation can be worked out more intelligently.

A division of the I. C. C. could devote itself exclusively to air problems, with general policies decided by the full commission.

The main thing is to get away from divided authority. The minute that commercial aviation knows "where it is at" more capital will be available to carry it forward. Its already impressive record can be made finer. Its structure can be given a more substantial basis.

As it is now, aviation never knows who is going to rock the plane next.

MONDAY, NOV. 1; ALL SAINTS' DAY

Once Upon Nov. 1st—Ten years ago this month, the best-selling book in America was "Trader Horn," the rambling memoirs of an old man who had in his youth been a pioneer trader of rubber and ivory in the Africa of the seventies; a narrative of gorilla and elephant hunting, cannibal rites, tribal wars, voodooism, and the Gold Coast slave trade, written by Mrs. Ethelreda Lewis with a skill and technique comparable to that with which Daniel Defoe made Alexander Selkirk the outstanding character in all western literature.

Both Horn and Selkirk, like Buffalo Bill, had the satisfaction of seeing themselves become protagonists and achieve deathless reputations in semi-fictional works having wide world sales and popularity, while they were still alive.

Alexander Selkirk, a 26-year-old Scotch seaman—seventh son of a seventh son—began the adventures that inspired Defoe's story, 233 years ago today. Always a youth of rebellious temperament, Selkirk by his own request had himself put ashore on Juan Fernandez Island. (Continued On Page Seven)

TRUE FOLLOWERS HALLOWE'EN PART I

Miss Thelma Gordon of Lathrop street entertained the True Followers class of the Calvary Presbyterian church, of which she is the teacher, at their annual Halloween party at her home on Friday evening.

During the course of the evening the class bid farewell to girls who are leaving the class by promotion and welcomed those coming into the class.

As each of the masked girls entered the house they were greeted by ghostly figures which ushered them into the living room. The room was decorated with cats, pumpkins and various other ghostly Halloween figures.

Prizes given for the best costumes were awarded to Elizabeth Miller, Shirley Dean and Helen Colbert.

A short business meeting preceded the social time with Ruth Hartman being elected treasurer, the office having been left vacant by promotion. The president, Shirley Dean, had charge of the business session, and Pauline Fredericks and Eva Beckart conducted the devotional exercises.

A feature of the evening was a spelling bee in which Pauline Fredericks "out-spelled" the rest of the girls and was awarded a prize.

At a seasonable hour a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Lloyd Shuts, Mrs. J. W. Conway and Mrs. Helen Dunlap.

In November the class will hold its meeting at the home of Shirley Dean, East New Castle.

County Commissioners and Registrar Clerk, Thomas Edmunds, were busy this forenoon delivering voting supplies and the registration lists to the different precincts throughout the city. The voting supplies are wrapped in packages not to be opened until tomorrow morning, while the voting lists are done up in small suitcases. Most of the ballots in the country districts were taken out on last Friday and Saturday. Judges of election in the various precincts are seeing that the voting booths are ready.

Large Crowd Thrilled By Banks' Exhibition In Y. M. C. A. Lobby

Close to 200 amazed checker and chess enthusiasts thronged the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday night to watch Newell W. Banks, rated as one of the world's star checker players, demonstrate in a public exhibition the reason he is rated as such.

Banks was victor in every game he played—all except one. One game with a local checker expert, Charles Miller, ended a draw.

For the entertainment of the crowd Banks played four checker opponents simultaneously, while blindfolded—and to boot he played a game of chess at the very same time. His skill often brought applause from the crowd.

General Secretary R. L. Meermans and Activities Director Henry T. MacNicholas were out to handle the affair, one of the most enthusiastic public offerings the "Y" has staged in a long time.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Market Crash Was No Surprise

Federal Reserve Board Gave President Report On Conditions Six Months Ago

STUDIES MADE ON INDUSTRIES

Central Press Washington Bureau 602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Apparently the recent "recession" (as New Dealers call October's 25 billion-dollar stock market crash) came as no surprise to the federal reserve board.

More than six months ago board members noted that recovery was not progressing as scheduled in the blue prints.

The board ordered its research staff to ascertain why.

WHAT STUDIES REVEALED

There followed a series of studies of the position and condition of the nation's basic industries—rails, telephones and other communications, public utilities, steel and the like.

Insiders say that the interstate commerce commission's subsequent 47-million-dollar increase in rail rates was largely the result of White House pressure, a sequel to the submission to President Roosevelt of the reserve board experts' investigation of the railroads' economic status.

Also standing out like a sore thumb in the experts' report, according to confidential information, is the public utility situation.

UTILITIES NOT EXPANDING

Deterred from new financing by certain local restrictions under the holding company act, it is represented that the electric utilities are lagging in the recovery parade.

Ordinarily absorbing a billion dollars annually for new construction, the report states that the utilities have wobbled along in late years at a 40 per cent of normal rate, meantime accumulating a vast dammed-up volume of business for the durable goods industry.

The reserve board experts mention that utility construction creates business in a broad field for copper, steel, lumber, rubber, cement and similar commodities.

AS REPORT STATES IT

Early SEC regulations under the holding company act have been somewhat modified, but insufficiently so, the reserve board inquiry indicates, to tempt fresh investment in utility issues.

It is a report, I understand, which is very discreet in implying that the national administration has adhered to an unduly punitive policy toward an industry which harbored an insull.

Nevertheless, it is a policy which, the report hints, has run afoul of recovery.

ON PRESIDENT'S DESK

It is a report which, I am reliably informed, is on the presidential desk. What the White House will do about it I have no notion. One might venture a guess, however, on the strength of the interstate commerce commission's rail rate ruling.

I have not seen the report personally. It is one of the most confidential things in existence. But I get my tip from a highly trusted informant who has seen it. He assures me that the portion of it dealing with the communications industry is not particularly thrilling but that the utilities section is downright exciting, from a business standpoint.

NOT BOOSTING UTILITIES

Believe me, dear reader, I'm not boosting for the private utilities. My utility bills make me as sore as the next man.

All I am telling is what the federal reserve board says about utility securities.

"College Widow" To Be Presented

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 1.—College life as it was lived in the shirt-waist days of 1910 will be reenacted on the Westminster College Little Theatre stage, when George Ade's farce-comedy of collegiate days a quarter of a century ago, "College Widow," will be produced December 8-11, under the direction of Prof. A. T. Cordray.

The setting of the play is Atwater College for men, where the chief interest of the football team, besides the game, is the college widow. Properties call for peg-top trousers, box-toed shoes, and derby hats for the male collegian, and wasp-like waists, trailing skirts and high-necked shirt-waists for the "college widows."

DO AMERICA'S FLIERS APPRECIATE THE COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN CAMELS?

YOU bet they do! In aviation is one of the most loyal groups of Camel smokers in the country. For example, the famous transcontinental record holder, Col. Roscoe Turner, smokes Camels. So do test-pilot Lee Gehlbach, Capt. Frank Hawks, and TWA's chief pilot, Hal Sneed—to mention only a few. As Col. Turner puts it: "I guess you've noticed that men in aviation are great smokers. And, from what I see, most fliers share my regard for Camels. They need healthy nerves. That's one big reason why so many of us stick to Camels."

And many millions of Americans—more people than smoke any other cigarette in the world—give a hearty o-kay to Camels!

WINIFRED CASTLE works long hours at her editorial desk—smokes a lot. She says: "I can smoke as many Camels as I please and they never get on my nerves."

WARREN PIAGET, crack salesman, drives 50,000 miles—and more—a year. "I get tired," he says, "And I think it's swell the way Camels give me a 'lift'."

PETER KILLIAN is a news photographer. His slant: "Camels are always with me—especially at the table. Camels help my digestion to keep clicking."

EDWARD HURLEY, busy architect, says: "To my way of thinking, a man doesn't really know what honest-to-goodness natural flavor means until he smokes Camels."

ED GRAFFE, gym instructor, says: "Camels set me right—and that takes in a lot of angles. I can smoke all I please without getting jangled nerves."

MARIE DRISCOLL, business girl, speaks for a good many stenographers when she says: "Camels have everything I like a cigarette to have."

GENE ENGLISH, radio engineer, notices what cigarette the stars like: "Camels seem the favorite. I smoke Camels. They don't make my throat feel scratchy."

Camel spends MILLIONS MORE FOR COSTLIER TOBACCO! Camels are a matchless blend of finer—MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCO—Turkish and Domestic.

given the Rice company for a funeral bill, and later assigned to Helen R. Dagnon. It is claimed the note was paid but not received on the docket. At the trial of the case the jury disagreed.

Maude E. Schneider has presented a petition to court, asking that a guardian be appointed for her sister, Laura McNulty, 74 of Plain-grove township, who is unable to look after her property by reason of her age and illness. The next of kin are Grace McNulty, Mayview, Pa.; C. D. McNulty, Plaingrove; Ernest E. O. McNulty, Rockland, Pa.; and Iva C. McNulty, Rutledge, Iowa. The court fixed November 29th as a date for hearing the testimony.

George E. Rapp has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against A. C. Beighley to collect a bill of $196.54. Rapp keeps a feed store in Perry township, and it is claimed the defendant became indebted to him for grain and feed.

In the estate of the late Fred Means, Mrs. Pearl Means, widow, has presented a petition asking that appraisers be appointed to fix the value of certain real estate, which she proposes to take in lieu of cash as her widow's exemption. The court appointed John W. Taylor and Dewey Pollyblank to make the appraisal.

In the case of W. W. Richardson and E. S. Ingraham, trading as the Mercer sanitarium against the Lawrence Savings and Trust company, guardian of Sarah Kennedy, a motion to strike off the claim has been presented by the trust company. It is claimed that the statement of claim of the plaintiffs fail to show that there was any contract between the plaintiffs and the defendants for the keeping of Mrs. Kennedy at the sanitarium. And Application for a divorce has been filed at the prothonotary's office by Irene Lenora Morris of 841 Beckford street, against Aubrey W. Morris, whose address is supposed to be Akron, O. The couple were married in November, 1931. The application is made on the grounds of desertion.

Judges James A. Chambers and W. Walter Branch will hold a term of common pleas court, beginning on November 8. There was a term scheduled for October 18, but it was found that there were not sufficient cases ready. Those that are ready will be tried at the coming term.

County commissioners have received notice from the Public Utility Commission that hearings in the Edenburg viaduct cases will be resumed at the court house on November 15. There are several cases in which the testimony on the side of the plaintiffs was heard at the last hearing, and they will be taken up before any new cases are heard. These are cases in which damages are asked by reason of the building of the Edenburg viaduct. Several of them have been settled.

Former Jury Commissioner Howard Leslie of Neshannock township was at the county commissioners' office securing some sample ballots with which to instruct voters in the second precinct of Neshannock township. This township enjoys the distinction of having more registered voters than any other township in the county.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Taylor has been advertising in the News for his lost hunting dog and has been kept busy answering calls and looking for dogs. He was called up from Shesango township by some one who felt sure that they had his dog, but when he went to look at it he was again disappointed. There seems to be a lot of stray dogs running around.

Farmers who have loans with the Federal Land banks have been doing pretty well in meeting their payments this fall, according to Attorney W. W. Stevenson. Good crops have been a great help. Only two farmers, one in Scott township and the other in Pulaski township, have been unable to meet their payments and have moved away.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has received a letter from G. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men, asking him to be on the lookout for marked bills, which were paid out as ransom money in a recent kidnaping case. The bills are tens, twenties and fives. The two former were issued by the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago, with the exception of one bill, which was issued by the Boston Reserve bank. The fives are silver certificates, issued by the United States treasury department. Numbers of all the bills are given in a list sent the sheriff.

According to figures prepared by County Controller Frank Hill, there has been paid out to date for the purposes indicated the following amounts: New election equipment, $448.85; tabulating the primary vote, $667; tax cards, $53.60; addressing tax cards, $781.55; two per cent on collection of delinquent taxes, $649.81.

While he competes with us, we ignore or sneer at him; when he is safely dead, we tell one another how great he was.

IN SELF DEFENSE VOTE NO ON AMENDMENT 2-A, THE INCOME TAX AMENDMENT

At the last minute, Saturday to be exact, the politicians advanced what they called REASONS for voting for Amendment 2-A, tomorrow.

They still say it will be used to reduce local real estate taxes. The politicians told us that gasoline taxes would be used exclusively for highway construction and maintenance, but the Legislature GRABBED $15,000,-000 from that fund.

They have GRABBED a total of $42,000,000 from special funds which were supposed to have been used in the reduction of the general tax burden. What would they do with this new tax money if they ever got it?

HAVE THEY EVER REDUCED ANY TAXES? If passed, this amendment would permit the Legislature to use the money FOR ANY PURPOSE.

POSE. One purpose for which it would be handy would be to make more jobs, to build bigger and better political machines, to raise more taxes, to make more jobs, to build—oh you get the idea.

As a matter of fact, any school boy can tell you real estate taxes are assessed by city, county, school and other local tax assessing bodies. The Governor and the Legislature have no authority to raise, lower or eliminate local real estate taxes.

NO NEW TAX IS EVER USED TO LOWER AN OLD ONE. There is always an "EMERGENCY." But REMEMBER THIS. This is ONE TIME you can stop an additional tax grab. DON'T LET THEM FOOL YOU.

DON'T GIVE THE POLITICIANS a blank check for them to fill out.

Vote NO On Amendment 2-A TOMORROW!

Besmer Troop 1, was given fourth place with a score of 28 points, and Troop 5 came next with 27 total points.

off Chile in the Pacific, with a few necessities of life, after a series of quarrels with his captain. Punishment for "indecent" behavior in church" had caused him to run away from home, and he had been a pirate before getting a berth on this freighter.

Before the ship left the island, Selkirk changed his mind and begged to be taken back aboard, but this was refused. He remained alone on Juan Fernandez for four years and four months, until he was found and taken off by a privateer. It was another two years before he returned to England, and told the tales that attracted the attention of DeFoe, ablest newspaper reporter of the day. DeFoe used his imagination freely, and wrote Robinson Crusoe as a newspaper serial. It became so popular that Selkirk was moved to write a book about himself. It was a failure!

Also a failure was DeFoe's sequel, "The Further Adventures of Robinson Crusoe."

On Other Nov. 1st—608 A. D.—The first All Saints' Day, when the Pantheon of the ancient Romans was consecrated as the Church of Blessed Virgin Mary and All Martyrs. The day was chosen because the eve preceding was one of the four great pagan festivals (first of February, May, August and November) of unconverted peoples of the north, and it was easier to give a holiday a new significance than to end its observance.

1751—A bell was ordered cast in England for the Philadelphia town hall. This was to be the famous Liberty Bell of 1776, but Liberty inscription taken from Leviticus 25:10, was affixed in the original casting at that time when there was no thought of Revolution.

1755—An earthquake that was felt from Scotland to Asia Minor had its epicenter at Lisbon. The sea retired, leaving a great tidal wave that reduced the greater part of the Portuguese capital almost in an instant to a heap of ruins. Fire broke out to complete the destruction, and the death total reached 60,000.

1776—The Continental Congress instituted a national lottery—to raise $5,000,000 for the Revolutionary Army.

1870—Stephen Crane was born. He had never seen a battle when he wrote at 26, his classic war novel.

Police received a report Sunday that someone had broken a front window at the residence of Jesse Canis, 1309 Moravia street. The family was away at the time the vandalism was committed.

Boys were alleged to have torn down large stones from a wall in North Mercer street between Grant street and Lincoln avenue Saturday night, according to a report at police headquarters.

Police receive some peculiar calls, for instance last night they were asked to send police to the rear of a Wallace avenue apartment house where a skunk was said to have been present.

AIDING ACTORS IS PROFITABLE

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Diary: A breakfast feast on some tasty preserves Margaret Pemberton sent from Jersey. And came an autographed copy of Louis Bromfield's brave tale of India, "The Rain Came." Also a note from Wendy Barrie and one from Gilda Gray, now on a Colorado ranch.

So talking to my wife about getting away awhile, becoming a most potty hearing so many cackled in doubt about the world. And Winnie Sheehan and the

O. O. McIntyre lovely Jeritza called to invite us to broadcast with Will and Jessie Hays. Then for a walk, and a street fiddler told me he once fiddled at Rector's.

To dinner with the Jos. P. Kennedys and I found him as always one of the clearest thinkers of our time. And chatting a moment with Mrs. Margaret Emerson and her daughter, Gloria Baker, Harry Evans, George Jean Nathan and Luiza, the fashion artist. To my couch.

More than a million have followed David Grayson's "Adventures in Contentment," so popular twenty years ago. Recently he was asked to revive the "Adventures," and again they rang the bell. Which proves the tug of simplicity in writing and in theme. The Grayson articles are without plot. Just rambling notations of the joys to be found in the quiet places by the side of the road—looking on. Not many know Grayson in real life is the well-known Ray Stannard Baker, of Amherst, Mass.

In the London Daily Mail there is a stick daily on the editorial page captioned, "A Countryman's Diary." It is a musical lilt in type, from the countryside, exquisite essayettes about darning wrens in the hedges, the spread of tree moss and innumerable observations so truly rural and as old-fashioned as the rag hearth rug. The diary has been running 20 years and a Fleet street editor tells me it brings more protests when left out than any other feature.

For oblivion: Those fan clubs who fire a barrage of letters when a columnist has anything save praise for a movie star.

New York is expecting shortly a visit from Mrs. Laura Henderson, London's lively 73-year-old lady who has proved such a good friend to English theatrical reformers. Rich, she opened up a closed theatre in London as an open door to actors out of work, and called the enterprise "Revuedeville." It continues from 2 p. m. until 9:30. In four years only four weeks had been profitable until recently, when it caught on and today is a money maker. Mrs. Henderson has lived much of her life in China and India.

And, speaking of China, friends about the Lambs and Players are wondering the fate of dapper Tom Millard in the Shanghai uprising. No one seems to have heard from him. Tommy, a native of Rolla, Mo., who features snow white spats, derbies, a brown beaver, and hasn't dined in mufli in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, has been a foreign correspondent for 30 years and more recently became a public relations counsel for the Chinese government. He became as much a part of Shanghai as The Bund.

An avenue haberdasher tells me the most favored design in neckties is the blue polka dot. Every man, he says, has one or more in his collection. Most necktie buyers like the feminine viewpoint. Clifton Webb brings his mother, Lynn Fontanne makes Alfred Lunt's selections. Arnold Reuben, the delicatessen, is a glut for purple ties and any new shade will make him a customer. Jack Wheeler will sneak a red tie purchase now and then when his wife isn't looking. Charles G. Norris, the novelist, is the most extravagant of all cravat customers, but most of his ties are gifts for friends. William Goadby Lowe is about the last of the Ascot tie buyers.

Bazettelles: Rollin Kirby, the cartoonist, is an expert at bottle pool. Col. E. M. House, has subscribed to a careful diet and routine of exercise since his 20th birthday. Sinclair Lewis is a pushover for chilled raw tomatoes with coarse salt, as who isn't.

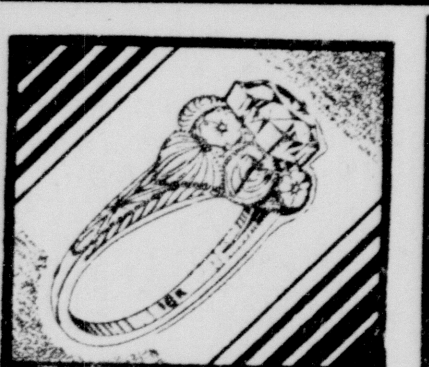

Reflection: Ukulele music sounds to me like the requiem for a dead cat, sung by two plaintive kittens. (Copyright, 1937, McNaught Syndicate)

WEDDING GUEST IS KILLED AT FARRELL

FARRELL, Pa., Nov. 1.—Jacob Kolsky, 55, Wheatland-West Middlesex road, was killed instantly Sunday while walking on route No. 418 near Wheatland, en route to Farrell, where the wedding party of a son was in progress.

Lee R. Allshouse, R. D. 2, Hubbard, O., driver of the car which struck him, was released under $1,000 bond, pending an inquest to be held by Dr. W. A. Applegate, county coroner. Mrs. Agnes Branski, Buffalo, N. Y., a relative of Kolsky, who was walking with him, escaped injury.

Kolsky and Mrs. Branski had attended the wedding and stayed at the party until midnight, when they left and went to the former's home. They decided to return to the party and were walking to Wheatland to board a street car for Farrell when the accident occurred.

Universal brotherhood won't help matter much. The first two born were brothers, but one killed the other.

Will Not Renew Lease For Police Alarm System

Council To Notify Company By Action Taken This Morning

Council met in the city building this morning and adopted a motion introduced by Councilman J. M. Rice in which it was stated the city does not desire to renew or extend the lease with the Gamewell company for the police alarm system. It was indicated that if a more economical system could be obtained such a move would be taken.

The motion instructed that the city solicitor be directed to give due and proper notice or cause the same to be done to the Gamewell company, that the city does not desire to renew or extend the lease.

The lease with the Gamewell company was signed September 12, 1932. The city was supposed to pay the company so much every year until the system was paid for after which it would become the city's property. Today it was stated that it had been found that the service and upkeep cost was more than the city desires and the officials believe they may rent a system from the Bell Telephone company at a cost more advantageous to the city.

The costs of the present system and that now considered on a rental basis will be thoroughly gone into before final action is taken.

The notice was given to the Gamewell company today because of the lease which makes it imperative that if the city does not intend to renew or extend the lease that the company be so notified.

The city is scheduled to pay $1,400. for this year's service. Under the present payment plan the city would own the system in 1942.

Marx Brothers Found Guilty

Found Guilty Of Infringing On Copyrighted Radio
Skit

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1.—There was gloom today in the house of Marx-Chico's and Groucho's. They didn't see anything funny in the fact they had been found guilty in a federal court of infringing on a copyrighted radio skit.

"We'll appeal it. We'll demand a new trial," declared Groucho, who is usually very funny indeed on the stage or in the movies.

"We don't think this is funny," he said. "We might get a jail jolt out of it."

They will appear for sentence today, and under the law the judge can fine them $1,000 or send them to jail for a year, or do both.

A federal jury found them guilty of using material which belonged to Carroll and Garrett Graham, film script men.

As for being funny about it all—Chico and Groucho were not amused.

"Don't try to make us appear to take this lightly," Groucho said.

Firemen Answer Four Fire Alarms

Small Damage Results From Blazes Reported Over
Week End Here

Firemen were called out four times over the week-end for small fires in different parts of the city. Saturday evening, at 8:05 o'clock, just as the Halloween parade was getting underway, firemen had to thread their way through heavy traffic to Croton avenue, near Martin street, where a short circuit in the auto of Harry Williams, had set fire to the floor boards. The loss was around $6.

Sunday at 10:45 a. m., they were summoned to the home of S. A. Rosen, of 436 Park avenue, because of a smoke scare. There was no fire.

At 4:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon, they were summoned to the home of Jacob Rosen, of 1005 South Mercer street, where an overheated heater pipe had set fire to the studing above a register. A loss of around $50 was reported.

Sunday at 8:35 p. m., they were summoned to Neshaunock avenue where the brakes of the auto of George W. Ramsey had caught fire. The loss was negligible.

JAPAN AGAIN MAKES PROMISE NO RECURRENCE

group of Japanese, after crossing Soochow creek from Chapel, boarded a Chinese junk loaded with rice which was under protection of American marines.

Lying on the international side of the creek, the junk supposedly was in inviolable waters, but the Japanese troops, firing blank cartridges to scare the Chinese crew, drove the latter to shore and took possession.

Inasmuch as no actual shots were fired, the American marines made no active attempt to prevent the confiscation but reported the matter to Brigadier General John C. Rosen, United States marine commander, who promptly protested to Japanese Vice-Admiral Hasegawa.

Another Promise

He received in reply another promise there would be no recurrence of such incidents.

In the meantime, the desperate struggle by Japan to capture Shanghai before the Brussels nine-power conference has completed its deliberations and the equally determined effort of China to forestall military defeat veered in favor of the Japanese.

Tokyo's shock troops chose a point on Soochow creek where a sharp bend enabled them to bombard the Chinese on three sides, throwing tons of metal into the Chinese trenches.

The Japanese, although suffering great loss of life, succeeded in bridging the forty-yard stream with pontoons and fortified the position from which they intend to drive south toward the Hungjao air-drome.

They hope eventually to cut off the Chinese and compel their withdrawal from the settlement area. The Japanese success in bridging the creek was considered by neutral experts as marking beginning of the end of the defense of Shanghai.

The Chinese, however, were reported bringing up still more troops in an effort to prolong the struggle at least for duration of the Brussels parley.

In Breslau he saw these refugees attacked and at this age, took up Judaism to its fullest degree. He was graduated from the Seminary of Breslau and later, at the age of 23, was given the degree of doctor of philosophy at Giessen and obtained his rabbinical diploma at Breslau.

Writings Destroyed

During the past 16 years Dr. Prinz has authored various books on Jewish history. He has also translated noted Jewish writers of Poland, Russia, Austria and Hungary into German. He translated several of the ancient Hebrew and Aramaic texts into German. His writings have been destroyed by the present German regime and today his works are not permitted to be published in Germany.

His activities in defense of the Jewish youth caused Hitler to give him the alternative of either being confined to the German concentration camp or leave the country, which latter course he chose. He arrived in New York about three months ago. He speaks English well and has delivered a series of lectures from coast to coast. Mr. Prinz stated that on June 1 he will depart for South Africa in behalf of the World Jewish Congress.

Local Machinist Once Felt Half
Alive. Vendol Brings About Amazing Change.

MR. JAMES SAYLOR

Mr. James E. Saylor, well-known machinist at the Johnson Bronze Co., and residing at 374 Neshaunock Ave., New Castle, can hardly believe he is the same man as before taking Vendol. He says:

"I was so badly constipated everything seemed to go haywire. My stomach gave such trouble I was always suffering from gas, heartburn, acid risings and other distress, and I ate so little I lost a lot of strength."

"My liver wasn't working properly either, and I suffered from biliousness, severe dizzy spells and sick headaches. I felt sluggish and torpid all the time."

"I guess my kidneys were pretty weak because terrible pains settled in my arms, back and limbs, making work a torture, and frequent night risings broke up my sleep. I could hardly drag myself from bed in the morning and the day's work left me exhausted."

"Vendol and Vendol laxative tablets started my bowels moving properly, acted nicely on my liver and proved to be a mild diuretic to my kidneys, and soon I was in such fine shape I worked all day without getting tired. Vendol is the only medicine for weak, rundown people."

If constipation has left you weak, miserable and half alive, try Vendol, the famous preparation of 12 Roots and Herbs combined with Alkalines. You'll be amazed at the splendid way it works and soon you will enjoy vigorous health again.

See the Vendol Man at New Castle Drug Co., 35 E. Washington St., and let him explain all the details as to how it will help you. Vendol is also sold by New Castle Drug at 24 N. 11th St., Schweitzer's Pharmacy, Ellwood City, and all other leading druggists everywhere.

Ellwood High Loses Thrilling Game To Aliquippa; Score 9-7

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—A safety on the first scrimmage play of the game provided the victory edge for Aliquippa high school griders who nosed out Ellwood City Wolverines in a hard fought battle Saturday afternoon at Aliquippa, with the final score being 9 to 7.

Aliquippa won the kick-off with Newton receiving, and downed on Aliquippa's two-yard line. In the next play, DiCicco, right guard, blocked Jones' punt behind the goal line and the local's opponents were in the lead by two points.

In the following play, the Steelers, who had worked out a double reverse play with the ends carrying the ball, to the 10th degree, momentarily baffled the Ellwoodites and after considerable gains added by the play, Davies, carried the ball over for the tally. Smaltz's placement kick added the extra point and at the end of the quarter the score read Aliquippa 9, Ellwood 0.

A passing attack that netted them 37 yards, was displayed in the second quarter by the Aliquippa crew with McMullan, left half, on the tossing end, and Smaltz and Gilbert receiving. Aliquippa's opportunity for scoring another touchdown was lost when Snare, Ellwood's left half, intercepted one of McMullan's shots on the Aliquippa 1 and returned it to the 5 before being stopped and then Jones' punt placed the ball on the opponent's 35.

Brendt Scores On 65-Yard Dash. And then came the game's big thrill, that brought the large number of Ellwood City supporters, that took advantage of the perfect Indian summer day to witness another contest of their home town sons, to their feet roaring their applause. Gurala, Aliquippa's quarter, fumbled and Brendt, Ellwood's center, caught the ball in mid-air and with his teammates coming to his aid with superb downfield blocking, raced 65 yards for Ellwood's only touchdown.

Tense Ellwood fans held their breath for an instant, as once, almost within the clutches of the red and black, it seemed as though he would be forced out of bounds, but the gods of the gridiron favored him and he crossed the last stripe unmolested. Captain Keller's placement kick made Ellwood's total score 7 points.

A nice 42-yard gain by Jones through the line from punt formation counted for naught as the half ended.

Both teams came back fighting strong in the third quarter and although each team made nice gains, neither were ever in a scoring position.

tion. Although Nate Lippe's boys tried several of their double reverses and passes, that worked so effectively in the first and second periods, the Wolverines beat them to the trigger and nullified their effectiveness.

Razzle-Dazzle Play
Beginning the fourth quarter and in the other periods, too, DiCicco, Aliquippa's right guard, gained considerable ground by carrying the ball in a razzle-dazzle play. Late in the last period Swick blocked an Aliquippa punt and Keller recovered on the 44 and for a time it looked as though Ellwood was going to change the game's outcome. Snare and Newton added a first down and Snare gained 14 yards and another first and ten from the spread formation play and a pass from Jones to Blaine was good for seven yards, but Ellwood's bright hopes for another touchdown were buried when Kolenda, Aliquippa's center, intercepted another pass by Jones, and in another half dozen plays the final whistle blew, with the ball resting on Ellwood's 48.

While the locals were on the defensive the greater part of the game, time after time they elicited the hearty applause of their following for stopping the much heavier Aliquippa aggression, by their speed in blocking and tackling. Everyone of the Ellwood regulars and the substitutes who played are to be highly commended for their splendid performance.

Outstanding in Aliquippa's line were Davies, Kolenda, DiCicco and Williams and in their backfield, Smaltz, Gilbert and McMullan.

Next Saturday the locals will go to New Brighton and the following week will be hosts to Beaver Falls at Lincoln field, and on Thanksgiving will wind up the schedule for 1937 with Ironton, O., there.

Although New Brighton is the Beaver county leader, it will be the first time that Ellwood in one of its major games will meet a team of its corresponding size and weight.

Showers Honors Lewis McDanel

Forty Attend Enjoyable Event Held At Wurtemburg Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—A Halloween masquerade party and shower honored Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McDanel, of Wurtemburg, on Saturday evening, when Miss Janice Graham pleasantly entertained a circle of friends at her home, at Wurtemburg.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. McDanel was an event of late August with the bride being Miss Ada Graham, of Wurtemburg.

For the occasion the home was made colorful with attractive decorations. Prizes for the mummies, who in their clever impersonations entertained the others, were presented to Miss Ruth Badger and Mrs. Grace Pander.

Square dancing provided the evening's entertainment with the forty guests being served tasty refreshments at the close of the evening by Mrs. Roy Graham, Mrs. Loren Graham, Mrs. LaVerne Graham and the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCullough and children, Carolyn and Bobby, of Renfrew, were out-of-town guests.

Mr. and Mrs. McDanel were presented with an array of very lovely and useful gifts for use in their new home.

Little Bits Of This And That About Ellwood

Pheasants, squirrels and rabbits parades were rudely invaded this morning by hunters and their dogs as the first day of the small game season dawned bright and clear. All roads seemingly led to the woods and hunting places today. Although the season did not officially open until 9 a. m., many shots were heard before that time.

In preparation for the approaching winter, snow fences have been placed on the Ellwood-New Brighton and Ellwood-Zellenole roads by the state highway workers during the past week. Piles of ashes have also been placed at various points in readiness for the ice and snow.

Ellwood City spectators at the Ellwood-Aliquippa game on Saturday were impressed by Aliquippa's band in their snappy black and red uniforms. A D. Davenport is their director of music and is also a composer. For eight years, he played as a soloist under the great Sousa.

Tuesday will be just the second day of November to most people, evidently, but don't forget it is election day. In addition to the important county offices to be filled there are a number of local offices, including, burgess, tax collector, school director and council to be filled and everyone should take advantage of the opportunity to vote for their favorite candidates. There are a number of important offices to be filled in the townships, also.

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, an Ellwood City veteran P. and L. E. railroad worker, Michael Perry, of South Second street, concluded 42 years of service and today is a pensioner.

Coming to this city, when it was little more than a typical country village, he has resided here for nearly half a century. For the past several years he has been the watchman at the Sixth street crossing and has become a familiar and well-liked character to hundreds of this city's residents, who rejoice with him in the passing of the Railroad Pension Retirement Act.

In December, 1892, Mr. Perry began his employment here with the Pittsburgh Car company which was a street car chain, that operated in this city and in 1899 it was taken over by the Pennsylvania R. R., with the cars connecting at Ellwood Junction and later a bridge was built across the Beaver river to connect with West Ellwood Junction, which was still used until a few years ago when it was abandoned in favor of the motor transportation method.

For the past twenty years Mr. Perry has worked under Jonathan Jacobs, of this city, who has achieved for himself a record of 48 years of service.

After an old witch had stirred fortunes out of her kettle for each of the 50 guests, an animal hunt followed, with Mrs. Lemery's team winning. Charles Baird and Mrs. Loyal Wilson were the winners of an apple race and Mrs. Walter Simpson, Mrs. Ralston Zigler and Mrs. Kenneth Sands were firsts in an amateur contest. POWERS for JUDGE Concerning JOHN S. POWERS in the District Attorney's Office, some have spread the report that he was always late for Court. He was District Attorney for four years. That means sixteen terms of Criminal Court. Throughout this period he was never absent from Court through sickness or from any other cause and he was never late for a trial—not even once. The late Ralph M. Campbell was Clerk of Courts, but his deputy, Miss Emma Carson, still occupies that position. The librarian at the Court House takes all calls at the court room number. Ask either of them.

Since the judicial campaign of two years ago Mr. Powers was named as Special Assistant United States District Attorney and was connected with the Pittsburgh Office. His work there was not on the criminal side. He was chosen for a particular task, namely, to defend civil cases brought against the Government. Out of a series of eleven cases defended by him, one was lost by the Government, one was settled and the other nine resulted in verdicts favoring the Government. At the conclusion of this work Mr. Powers was specially commended by the Department of Justice in a letter out of the Washington Office.

The man who will be President Judge for the ensuing eight years and Mr. Powers are of the same age; having been born within a few months of each other. Mention is made of this fact because, in choosing one for such an office and for a ten-year term, it becomes important to consider what are a man's best years, having in mind the work he will be called upon to do. One elevated to this important place at the proper age, from the standpoint of the physical stamina required, will give the best account of such stewardship, provided, of course, he has the necessary mental alertness and intellectual grasp in the first place. There is such a thing as the legal mind. It is the type of mind that lays hold of the fundamental principle of a legal proposition, appreciates the practical problems involved in its application and doesn't take too long in doing it.

A Judge without this quality may flounder through the years of his term—and some of them do—but it is the taxpayer and the litigant who suffer the delays and foot the bills.

We, therefore, commend to the voters the cause of JOHN S. POWERS, who is a candidate for Judge. We commend him as one having the necessary alertness and vigor of mind, as one schooled in the grace of tolerance and in the exercise of those human qualities and intellectual processes which a high conception of the office calls for, and as one whose best years lie ahead of him.

Lawrence County Independent Grid Title Goes To Fine Seventh Ward Team

DeCAPRIO-RAINEY SCORE TOUCHDOWNS

Playing a great brand of football and with precision the Wabash Bears of the Seventh Ward won the Lawrence County Independent championship Sunday afternoon at the E. & A. Field before a crowd of over 3,000 fans. Gabby DeCaprio and A. Rainey scored the touchdowns in the 14 to 0 victory.

The Bears waited until the final period before "turning on the heat." The game was replete with thrills of all kinds. The Fannins had the ball on the Bears 15-yard once but could get no further. The Bears drove down the field early in the fourth period, with DeCaprio and Blisco going a lot of fancy foot-balling, until they reached the 1 yard mark and DeCaprio plunged it over. Toscano converted the extra point.

Late in the final period, Blackie Adams intercepted a Fannin pass and raced to the eight-yard line. DeCaprio heaved a pass to A. Rainey and he went over the goal line. Toscano again converted the extra-point.

Albert Injured
Nick Albert, former High star lineman was severely injured in the battle. The entire Bears played a great game, with no standouts unless it was this man DeCaprio and Toscano. For the Fannins the work of Coppie and the kicking of Pal-kovitch and Blazo featured.

The Bears are deserving of all the praise that is being heaped upon them today by their faithful followers.

Panthers Fumble Many Times But Beat City Rivals For Championship

SLIPPERY ROCK TRIPS GROVERS

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Intercollegiate football in Pennsylvania went into the home stretch over the weekend and with the corner-rounding also went several outstanding surprises and marked upsets by the football stalwarts of the Keystone state.

Outstanding among the perpetrations performed was Penn's stunning form reversal which scuttled the Navy 14-7. Conceded only a small chance at game time, the Quakers came to life with a hip-hip-hooray and a highly effective display of aerial warfare, turning a smooth clicking dreadnaught into a less-promiscuous submarine.

Pitt Sinks Tech.
The Annapolis lads had only themselves to blame as frequent fumbles stalemated their touchdown tries.

Outstanding also was Carnegie's show against the Pitt Panther. Even though the Tartans dropped the game to a highly favored crew from the other side of town, they did wreck the jungle cats' hitherto unscored-on record, pushing across two touchdowns to wind up the perennial scrap 23-14. It was the 20th time Pitt defeated Tech since the intracity series started way back in 1903.

The setto also provided a big scare for the golden cats because the Scotchmen forged through their vaulted forward wall and tallied a touchdown and an extra point to

This Is What Goes On Two Nights Each Week At Rifle Club Meetings

Candid Camera Study Of An Evening At Cathedral Rifle Range Is Given

In the paragraphs to follow a candid camera study of the New Castle Rifle club's semi-weekly shoots is presented, giving you some "inside dope" on the sport which is producing so many marksmen in this section.

Cathedral Range Excellent

The New Castle Rifle club has existed for a great number of years, but only in the last four has it been active. Since its reorganization the facilities of the club have been improved to such an extent that the New Castle club has one of the finest if not the best 50 to 75 foot range in this section of the country. The range is located in the basement of the Cathedral, in the section that once contained bowling alleys.

Matches or practices, as the case may be, are scheduled every Monday and Friday nights from 7:30 to 12 o'clock. Admission is free and attendance of shooters or interested spectators is very desirable and encouraged. Interest is the backbone of the club and to aid the visitor, members will explain anything about the shooting game that he or she may know.

Women Shoot Too
Several women belong to the club, shooting fine scores and improving rapidly. One of the women shoots on a par with the best shots in the club and is high gun a great part of the time.

Seventy-five feet is the distance the course (20 shots) is usually shot over, although in some cases where 40 feet is the longest range obtainable, 30 feet is the distance. The 30-foot target is reduced in size in proportion to the 75-foot target, so that scores are the same over both distances.

As to actual firing: Ten targets, on each of which is printed five scoring rings, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 are hung up 75 feet from the shooter by a range officer.

Each target has the name of the shooter on it.

Various Positions
The ten shooters take the prone position, that is, they lie down, resting elbows on the floor. At a signal from the range officer firing commences.

Two sighting shots are fired, if they wish, in order that the shooters may know that their rifles are properly sighted and are hitting the ten rings or bull's eyes.

Five shots are fired from prone position, each shot having a potential value of 10 or a possible 50 from five shots. This position is shot on the upper left, or the "10 o'clock bull."

The shooter then takes the sitting position, sitting on the floor with both elbows on the knees. Five shots are fired in this position with a possible value of 50 also, fired on the upper right or "2 o'clock bull."

The kneeling position is now taken, one foot flat on the floor, the other under the marksman and one elbow on one knee. Five shots are fired from this position, 50 being the highest possible score. This score is shot on the lower left or "8 o'clock bull."

Offhand or standing is self-explanatory. Five shots while standing with a total value of 50. This is sometimes spoken of as shooting on "your hind legs." The total time limit for score and sighters is 25 minutes.

200 Is Perfect Score
As can be seen, 200 is a perfect score, 195 or over is unusual, 190-5 is excellent, 185-90 is very good.

Five men usually compose a team and the total of their scores is the team score.

Take an evening off and come to the Cathedral range and investigate this rapidly growing sport for men and women young and old.

Yale And Dartmouth Latest Major Elevens To Engage In Deadlocked Game

NOTRE DAME TOPS MINNESOTA 7-6

By DAVID J. WALSH International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Of more lasting significance, I should say, than the fact that California, Nebraska, Pitt, Alabama, Duke, Baylor, Fordham, Santa Clara, Villanova, Colorado, Holy Cross, Temple, Lafayette, Yale and Dartmouth among others, remained unbeaten during Saturday's varied violence throughout the country—and that Detroit, Auburn, North Carolina and Vanderbilt did not—is an urgent question. In fact, two:

Is college football currently in the throes of a tie-score scourge? In making it easier for officials, with the new pass-interference rule, have they made it too hard for the attack?

Many Deadlocks
All I know is that I've sat here counting up eighteen scoreless ties this season in more or less major meetings, probably a record, with five of them appearing on Saturday. Two didn't matter—Mississippi State-Centenary and St. Mary's-Pacific. The other three—Holy Cross-Temple; Stanford-Oregon State and U. S. C.-Washington State—did.

Stanford and Oregon State, for instance, practically ushered unbeaten, untied California into the conference championship. As for Temple and Holy Cross, their scoreless tie—incidentally, Temple's third in six games—left the east without an all-winning leader, since Fordham and Pitt did the same thing against each other a few weeks ago.

Worthwhile Tips To Game Hunters

No One Should Carry Loaded Gun In Automobile

SHOULD WEAR PLENTY OF RED

With the small game hunting season scheduled to open at 9 a. m. Monday it may not be amiss for the hunters to study some of the tips given by Virgil Hettlinger in the Pennsylvania Game News.

One of his suggestions is that no one carry a loaded gun in the auto because it is contrary to law. He also advises that if climbing a fence, crossing a stream or obstacle of any kind, open the action first. If one must lay the gun down, place it so the muzzle will point away at all times. When it is picked up again it should be grasped by the "hind legs". Hunters should also wear plenty of red.

Study These Suggestions.

Here are some rules which are worthwhile heeding: Before entering a hunting lodge or residence of any kind, point your firearm in a "neutral" direction and unload it completely. Work the bolt, lever or pump a few extra times to insure its being empty. Place the gun in the gunrack and LEAVE THE ACTION OPEN.

Do not take any gun from the rack, other than your own, without getting permission from the owner. When you take your own gun from the rack, first ascertain if the action is open. If it is not, open it immediately.

When leaving the camp or car to hunt, point your gun in a "neutral" direction to load the magazine. Do not load the chamber till the gang has thinned out, and you are left on your "stated".

After you load the chamber, see that the "SAFETY" slide or lug is in the "SAFE" position. Hunt with it that way. It is less apt to be discharged accidentally. BUT DON'T TRUST IT EVEN THEN.

Do not stand at any time with the "butt" on the ground and the muzzle grasped with both hands. Be sure you are shooting at game and not another hunter.

Beware Of Snow, Dirt.
If you gather in a group to set your lunch, open the action and lay the gun down carefully. When you pick it up again be careful you don't get snow or dirt in the muzzle.

Never walk single file with the chamber loaded. DO NOT TRUST THE SAFETY. Unload the chamber and leave the action open.

If you hand your gun to a partner across a fence or stream, open the action first.

Never stand a gun against a tree, log or fence. Lay it down carefully, with the muzzle pointed AWAY.

Never exchange guns with a partner for a hunt. You can't possibly be as familiar with his gun as you are with your own.

If, for any reason at all, you use a different gun than usual, familiarize yourself with its action thoroughly before taking it afield.

In case of a jam, do not try to force the action. You may damage the gun or explode a cartridge. Remove the cartridge that is causing the trouble, carefully, with the muzzle pointed in a "neutral" direction.

Westminster-Thiel Game At Greenville Results In 14-14 Score

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 1.—After dominating the play for three quarters, the Blue and White of Westminster suddenly crumbled in the fourth quarter of their battle with Thiel at Greenville Saturday, allowing the Tomcats to score eight points on a safety and a long last minute pass that tied the score at 14 all.

Maffei, Titan halfback, lugged the pigskin over for touchdowns in the second and third quarters, with Laposki converting on both occasions, to put Westminster in the lead. Thiel, after scoring on a pass to McKinstry in the first quarter, garnered two points when Maffei fumbled behind his own goal line and knotted the count with less than a minute to go when John Breckenridge heaved a long pass to Davis standing in the end zone.

Shortly after the game began, the Lutherans capitalized on two Titan fumbles, and scored on J. Breckenridge's attempted conversion. McKinstry's attempted conversion was wide. The rest of the opening period was on even fight with most of the playing done in midfield.

With the ball resting just in Thiel territory in the second quarter, the Blue and White began a drive which was climaxed when Maffei raced off tackle for 18 yards and the first Titan score. Laposki place kicked the extra point.

Maffei continued to tear up the Tomcat forward wall with runs of 28 and 16 yards, but was unable to score again in the first half.

As the end of the third quarter drew near, Danny Mamula, husky Titan tackle, intercepted a Thiel pass on the Tomcat's ten-yard line and was brought down on the seven.

After Wright had smashed his way to within inches of the goal in three tries, Maffei tore through tackle for the second Westminster score. Laposki again converted with a place kick.

The final period was hardly under way when J. Breckenridge punted to the Titan 2-yard line and on the next play, Maffei fumbled behind the goal line to give Thiel two points. With 45 seconds of play left, the Tomcats worked a lateral pass behind the line of scrimmage which resulted in a score when J. Breckenridge uncorked a long throw to Davis standing in the end zone. Susko blocked McKinstry's attempted placement.

The man in question is Jesse H. Gibson and if you happen to be up in the Croton district stop in and ask him how he felt when he made that hole-in-one at the New Castle Field club course on Sunday.

Playing with Gibson at the time was C. B. Flester, and R. R. and W. E. Lanahan. The famous shot occurred on the No. 13 hole, a 135 yarder, and Gibson used a five-iron, or mashe to you. The ball hit on the green eight feet from the pin and trickled into the cup.

Chicago Again Plans For Huge Stock Show

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Farmers and stockmen from many states, several Canadian provinces, as well as from Australia, South Africa and South America have thus far listed entries of livestock and crops for the 1937 International Live Stock Exposition. The exposition will be held in the new International Amphitheatre at the Chicago stock yards November 27 to December 4.

American Culture Will Be Studied

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 1.—"American Culture" has been added to the curriculum at Westminster college as its 22nd major course of study open to students. Background work for the course consists in an intensive study of American history, government, literature, music and fine arts, with an A. B. degree. Western Reserve university, Cleveland, and Chicago university have similar courses, and other American colleges are carrying out the same idea in other fields. Instead of drawing chiefly from one single field, as a major in English, the "American Culture" major will draw from as many departments as possible.

A supervising committee will prepare and conduct required comprehensive examinations in the senior year and approve thesis topics.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

The first thing we want to do today is praise the police department on their wonderful work Saturday night... Washington street was clear... not one car decorated the street... they started clearing it at six-thirty and at seven-thirty it was clear... the public should be congratulated too on its fine cooperation.

If you want to see a real football game then be sure to plan on going to the game next Saturday... it will be a real one and now that the team has opened up you should see some real playing... the new uniforms will be on the band boys and all will be ready to go... how about supporting this game.

Tomorrow is election day and a large vote is expected... how about going to the polls early and vote with a clear head... remember to give each candidate an equal chance and then vote your own thoughts... you know right from wrong.

Today is the first day of

CHEST REPORT AT NOON WEDNESDAY

Latest Tally Is Due Then;
Chest, Agencies' Leaders
Meet Tonight

All Community Chest interests—and hopes—were focused today on Wednesday noon, the hour the 1937-38 campaign teams will gather at the First Christian church to report additional contributions and pledges.

A total of $57,270.02 of the goal of $70,000 has been raised and the workers are firmly determined that the entire $70,000 shall be subscribed. They've shown that determination from the first.

When they meet again for their sixth report session on Wednesday, November 3, it will be with high hopes, for if the $70,000 can be raised by that time it will be that the job will be finished that much earlier.

There's reason to believe, though, that the campaign will continue beyond that date—continue to a grand community celebration in which all of the $70,000 will surely be raised.

Call Leaders To Pow-Wow.
Called tonight for a meeting in The Castleton at 7:30 to discuss the current campaign are members of the Community Chest board and the presidents of the nine participating chest agencies and representatives of their boards. The meeting will be presided over by Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, general chairman of the drive.

More than 5,000 residents have contributed or pledged to this year's campaign so far. Their help will be shared by nine of the city's important welfare and character-building institutions.

Mrs. Johnson is leading the drive with Bernard N. Hanlon and the chest office staff as administrators.

Dispute Partially Settled Is Report

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—The controversy which led to the walkout of union carpenters at Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation's new Irwin works project was partially settled today when one of the two firms involved in the dispute agreed to hire union men only.

The carpenters, however, will remain out on strike until an agreement is reached with the other firm which they alleged is using non-union men on the $60,000,000 building program.

Five Injured In Automobile Crash

Mercer Youth Critically Injured
As Machines Collide Head-on Near Mercer

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Nov. 1.—Robert Martin, aged 17, of Mercer, is in the Grove City hospital in a critical condition, with a fractured skull, received at 7:30 o'clock this morning, when the car in which he was traveling towards Grove City, with Wilbur Rhodes, aged 23, also of Mercer, collided head-on with a machine occupied by three Costello brothers, of Verona, Pa., a few miles east of Mercer.

The Costellos were enroute towards Mercer, intending to go hunting. The cause of the accident has not been learned.

George Costello, aged 31, is in the Mercer hospital, with a compound fracture of the jaw and broken left leg. His brother, Ralph, aged 19, suffered lacerations of the head and face, and bruises. He is also in the hospital here. Clement, the third brother, escaped with but minor injuries.

Rhodes, who was in the car with Martin, has a fracture of the left jaw, and lacerations.

Passing motorists took Martin and Rhodes to the hospital at Grove City, while the Costello brothers were brought to Mercer. Private William Hayes, of the Pennsylvania Police, is investigating the circumstances.

Arnold R. Cordes, of Cleveland, O., father of Miss Marguerite Cordes of 415 East Moody avenue, New Castle, passed away at his home on Sunday night.

Marguerite Cordes' Father Dies Sunday

BOARD GATHERS TONIGHT
Directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet for a business session this evening at 7:30. President Presley N. Jones announced.

Mrs. Wm. Crowe's Brother Dies At Ford City Today

Mrs. William Crowe, of Dewey avenue, has received the sad news of the death of her brother, Perry Daugherty, at Ford City.

Mr. Daugherty passed away at 8 o'clock this morning. His sister is now the last surviving member of a family of seven.

AROUND CITY HALL

It was anticipated that because of the parade Saturday night that little, if any damage would be committed in the guise of Halloween pranks. One report to police stated that stones were torn from a wall in North Mercer street. A window was smashed in Moravia street and soap was applied to a Laurel avenue window.

Chief of Police Ralph A. Griswell, today will discuss with Mayor Chas. McGrath the advisability of placing Stop signs in thoroughfares which cross Albert street, which was paved recently. Since the improvement, traffic has increased. Albert street between Sheridan and Englewood avenues, is a thoroughfare.

Cars Collide; Two Injured

Mildred Coffey, 2505 Belmont avenue and Frances Peak, 1880 Cherry street, both colored, and from Youngstown, were treated for shock at the New Castle hospital Sunday morning as the result of an auto accident five miles from New Castle on the New Bedford-New Castle highway.

According to reports the car in which they were riding was driven by James McKay, colored, 915 Starr street, Youngstown. He was driving toward the Ohio line. The other car which was involved in the accident and which was operated toward this city, was driven by John Katila, 727 Oak street, Youngstown, according to State Motor police.

Detectives Probe Alleged Attack

Several persons were arrested on suspicion Sunday as the result of an alleged attack on Francis and Charles McCormick, Potersville, R. D. 2, in East Division street, about 1:15 a. m. Sunday. Francis received a fractured nose and was treated at the New Castle hospital.

According to the McCormick boys they were walking through East Division street when they were approached by several young men. They claim they were attacked and in the battle Francis sustained a fracture of his nose.

Detectives today will quiz the suspects held in the city jail.
